A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, rich blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not head work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs. A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures, weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

RIOTOUS CHAUFFEURS.

Police reserves were called out late yesterday afternoon in New York to quell a riot started by the striking chauffeurs of the New York Transportation Company. The first trouble began at Thirty-sixth street and Eighth avenue, when a motor car belonging to the company, driven by Arnold Bien, reached that corner, and before long 500 chauffeurs and 100 police were involved.

The police declare that the trouble was started by a young woman, who urged the crowd standing on the street to break up the police protection of a passing automobile belonging to the New York Transportation Company.

"Will you stand this? Go at them like men!" the woman is said to have shouted. Instantly the cry was raised.

"Down with the strike breakers. Kill the police if they interfere." The crowd surrounded the automobile and the driver jumped from his seat and disappeared. A second New York Transportation Company machine appeared on the scene about the same time and the mob turned its attention to this also. Stones, sticks and eggs were thrown from every direction. In a short time reserves from two police stations reached the scene.

The strikers had caused a large coal wagon to be placed diagonally across the street, and when the automobile reached that point a crowd of several hundred men surrounded the car, pulled the chauffeur from the seat, completely wrecked the car and filled the air with stones and other missiles.

Two special officers on bicycles in the employ of the transportation company drew their revolvers and drove off the mob. The reserves from the Thirty-seventh street police station appeared on the scene, but this only seemed to make the mob more desperate and the police were charged up.

A roundsman was struck in the eye with a stone and was so badly injured that he was carried away. Five other policemen were hurt by flying missiles. The police then charged the mob and chased the strikers to Thirty-fifth street.

A new automobile arrived to take the wrecked machine back to the garage. The two machines started in tow down Thirty-sixth street to Seventh avenue, where a crowd of 5,000 men and boys were congregated.

All the way from Thirty-eighth street to Forty-third street and Broadway the chauffeurs and machines were pelted by stones. When the machines turned the corner to go up Eighth avenue a delivery wagon, purposely drawn across the street, blocked their progress. The strikers again stopped the machines, jerked the chauffeurs from the machines and beat them unmercifully.

Reserves from the Forty-seventh street station arrived and began to club back the infuriated strikers. The mob scattered and the automobiles started up Eighth avenue again.

When they reached Forty-third street one of the mob threw a stone at one of the chauffeurs, knocking him to the ground. Deputies from the company's garage with drawn revolvers held the crowd back. The reserves were called again. They clubbed right and left and two strikers were arrested. Finally, under the protection of the police, the automobiles were taken back to the stables by another chauffeur amid the hoots and cries of the drivers of every vehicle they passed.

"Devil's Confession."

A young man approached Policeman Hopkins, who was standing on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Third street, Washington, yesterday morning, and asked the officer the way to the White House.

In response to a query from the officer whether he was a stranger or not, the young man replied: "My name is James Nathaniel Edmund Combs and I am from Great Mills, St. Mary's county, Md. I want to see the President to show him the devil's confession."

Officer Hopkins told the young man to come with him, but instead of taking him to the White House he took him to police headquarters and introduced him to the sanitary officer. Young Combs, on being questioned, said that the Lord appeared to him and told him of the confession made by the devil. Combs stated that he had labored for about a year in writing out the confession, and the great wall of paper he exhibited convinced the sanitary officer that the young man had spent many months on the work. The police surgeon examined the young man and pronounced him harmless, but suggested that he return home. Young Combs concluded, after all, perhaps the President would destroy the manuscript if he read it, and therefore he took the boat for home yesterday afternoon.

Protest Against Absorptions

The first gun in what promises to be a fight waged by the Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Alabama against the effort that is being made to merge a number of those formerly in the church with it absorbed by the United States of America.

VANITY

From time immemorial moralists have railed at the vanity of woman. Here is a woman, and a beautiful one at that, who says that vanity is an imperishable instinct; that vanity, like love, is one of the great forces that makes the world go round; that to be vain is a duty to humanity and an essential of success.

It's an original view; what is your opinion? This defense of an old time sin is set forth in our new magazine—was sounded yesterday at the session of the Cumberland Presbyterian Synod of Alabama, in session at East Lake.

A resolution was passed calling upon all congregations of the Cumberland Church to employ none but Cumberland Presbyterian ministers and to ask the resignation of all pastors who may have agreed to the union of the churches.

It was also resolved to make demand upon Rev. W. B. Witherspoon, former stated clerk of the Synod, for the money, books, records, etc., which it is claimed are the property of the Cumberland Church.

Yesterday's action follows the split which occurred two nights ago when the members of the two churches met in Birmingham with a view to holding a joint synodical convention.
